

Neotive Gateway Solutions Business Overview

Neotive Gateway Solutions™ is a next generation, interactive media solutions company with objectives to aid organizations, municipalities, and businesses in leveraging interactive media strategies across the extended enterprise to drive revenue & brand awareness and optimize supplier relationships & organizational efficiencies.

Working with our strategic partners and utilizing Neotive Gateway Solutions' assessment tools, we assess the knowledge management needs (training and education, policies and procedures, compliance, and communities' internal and external feedback), develop holistic interactive strategies, and then apply the appropriate interactive media solution(s).

Neotive Gateway Solutions is not a software vendor. We are an interactive media solutions provider that has the capability to help you develop your new media and interactive strategies and implement them throughout your organization. We are adept at working with any or all departments within organizations with experiences that include: research, human capital management, corporate culture, integrating technology solutions, engineering, internet & social media, licensing, consumer products, events, advertising & promotions, design, media (film, television and print) and consumer research.

It is rare that you will find an organization like Neotive Gateway Solutions™ who has the research, experience, API's, and understanding of how to proactively manage interactions across the extended enterprise by leveraging the vast array of interactive media tools in the marketplace today.